FREDERICK AUGUSTUS MUHLENBERG, Speaker of the houſe of repreſentatives.

JOHN ADAMS, Vice preſident of the United States, and preſident of the ſenate.

Approved—September 16, 1789.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, PRESIDENT of the UNITED STATES.

PARIS, Auguſt 14.

THE accounts of the tumults of the ſeveral provinces, although much exaggerated and miſrepreſented, are but too true. They are almoſt all, more or leſs, infeſted by numerous gangs of robbers, who plunder and deſtroy wherever they dare.

Near Chalons ſur Saone, they burnt no leſs than 32 caſtles. The militia marching inſtantly againſt them put a ſtop to their depredations, killed upwards 300, without any loſs on their own part, and took 120 priſoners, many of whom are ſince dead of their wounds.

It would be difficult, perhaps dangerous, to ſearch out the ſecret ſprings and cauſes of thoſe commotions. Among theſe deluded wretches was a notary, on whom was found a printed order, purporting to be from the king, and commanding to burn all the caſtles they could come at, for the ſpace of three months.

A band of robbers have pillaged and burnt the caſtle of the count de la Mabthe, near Arcentan. Theſe ruffians were proceeding to burn the count, and alſo his father for having interceded for the ſon; happily their avarice ſuperceded their barbarity, and the lives of thoſe were ſpared, on making, in the preſence of a notary, a ceſſion of a conſiderable ſum of money, and other valuables.

Saverne has alſo been the theatre of deva[illegible]tation; there cardinal de Rohan narrowly eſcaped falling a victim. This circumſtance has delayed his arrival in the National Aſſembly.

Extract of a letter from Straſbourg, Auguſt 6.

"Yeſterday we had a fatal day. We have in this city ſix regiments, four of them French and two German; in the laſt diſturbance the ſoldiers joined the citizens, in recompence for which they paid 20 ſous to each ſoldier, 30 to each corporal, and 40 to each ſerjeant.

"The military court, which had the diſtribution of the money, deſired the ſoldiers to ſpend their money in the barrack; the French ſoldiers refuſed to do this, and deſired to have the liberty of ſpending their money where they pleaſed, which liberty was denied them, and ſome of them were impriſoned. Their comrades immediately demanded their releaſe with threats, and by force immediately releaſed them.

"After this there was no kind of ſubordination—the German regiments joined them, and forced open the Bridewell of the place, where all the ladies of eaſy virtue were kept, and then proceeded to open all the other priſons, and liberated all the priſoners. You cannot conceive the diſturbance there was from the ſix regiments, and the mob, who were all intoxicated; they carried about the ſtreets what they had taken from the inns, beer-houſes, bakers ſhops, coffee-houſes, confectioners, paſtry cooks and ſauſage ſhops, all of which they entirely ſtript. Every one they met was obliged to join them, and drink the health of the Tiers Etats.

"The governor's life was threatened, as alſo the prince of Mark Deponi, by his own regiment; he was obliged to fly with all his family, though very much eſteemed. The damages done on this occaſion are reckoned at about 100,000 livres. The regiment of Heſſen Darmſtadt was the moſt outrageous in this diſturbance, and were obliged afterwards to leave the town, when order was eſtabliſhed."

LONDON, September 5.

One plan of finance, which, it is ſaid, Mr. Necker intends to propoſe to the National Aſſembly, to relieve the preſent exigencies of the ſtate, is to iſſue paper money to the amount of one thouſand millions of livres, or about £.47,000,000 ſterling, to be firſt drawn, in certain proportions, to the different provinces.

Each province [illegible] to be known that its proportion of this money [illegible] to the [illegible], which [illegible] not be made [illegible] to this [illegible].

And the National [illegible] to [illegible] provinces [illegible], to [illegible] that this money ſhall be brought up at the periods to be hereafter mentioned.

At the end of one year 50,000,000 of livres to be iſſued from the treaſury, to pay off bills to that amount, the bills not to be iſſued again, but deſtroyed.

At the end of the ſecond year a ſimilar ſum of 50,000,000 of livres to be iſſued for the ſame purpoſe, and ſo on, from year to year, until the whole of the paper money ſhall have been called in, and cancelled, which the nation ſhould pledge itſelf to ſee done in the ſpace of twenty years.

The great objection to this plan is, firſt that it is not to leave it at the option of individuals to take or refuſe this paper money in payments; for part of the plan is, that it ſhall be penal in any one to refuſe it.

The next is, that every plan is in its nature objectionable and dangerous which has a tendency to throw a great maſs of wealth into a ſmall number of hands.

NEW-YORK, October 30.

By a gentleman arrived yeſterday from Georgia, we are informed, that the commiſſioners are on their way returning to this city. The ſame gentleman has been informed, that they have not been ſo very ſucceſsful in their negotiations with the Indians as could have been wiſhed. The Red People muſt be obliged to enter into peaceable treaties by ſome other means than the childiſh mode of making preſents. We muſt make them fear us, otherwiſe our love will be thrown away.

The generally received opinion in 1786 was, that the ruin of Georgia might have been ere this effected, had not Mr. M'Gillivray reſtrained the Indians from going beyond the boundaries of their own land. The territory, which was the original cauſe of diſpute, was then effectually cleared of intruders; and had the Georgians wiſely kept within their own limits, the horrors of war would have been at an end. It muſt however afford ſatisfaction to the citizens of the United States to hear that acts of cruelty hitherto characteriſtic of Indian warfare are in a great degree, if not altogether, diſcontinued. Priſoners are brought into the nation, among the Creeks, and treated with humanity.

CARLISLE, October 28.

At a meeting of a number of the inhabitants of the counties of Lancaſter, York, Cumberland, Northumberland, Dauphin, Huntington and Mifflin, held at the houſe of Mr. Archibald M'Calliſter, in Paxton townſhip, Dauphin county, the 20th inſtant:—

On motion reſolved, That it is of the utmoſt importance to the intereſt of the community at large, that the navigation of the river Suſquehanna, as far ſouth as Wright's Ferry and of Juniata, and of the other various ſtreams running into the ſaid rivers which are capable of being navigable, ſhould be effected without delay.

On motion, reſolved unanimouſly, That it is the ſenſe of this meeting, that ſubſcriptions ſhould be forthwith raiſed and collected, for the purpoſe of clearing the navigation of the river Suſquehanna as far ſouth as Wright's Ferry, Juniata, and the ſtreams aforeſaid, and that the monies, merchandiſes, &c. ſubſcribed, ſhall be appropriated for the purpoſes aforeſaid.

AUGUSTA, October 10.

The honourable the executive council are expected to meet on Tueſday next, when we have authority to ſay, a proclamation will be iſſued, announcing the pacific underſtanding which lately took place at the Rock Landing between the honourable the commiſſioners and the chiefs of the Creek nation.

On Tueſday laſt the honourable the commiſſioners for Indian affairs ſet out from this place, by the middle route, for New-York.

A correſpondent obſerves, that Mr. M'Gillivray's retreat from Rock Landing, and (if report ſays true) the Spaniſh ambaſſador's abrupt departure from New-York, are circumſtances from which we may predict a continental war on our ſouthern frontiers.

The governor has received a diſpatch from colonel Howel, of Effingham county, announcing that depredations have been already committed by the Indians, ſince their departure from the Rock Landing, by taking four negroes and a horſe from captain Bird, and three horſes from Mr. Loſſinger; and that a party had gone in purſuit.

CHARLESTON, (S. C.) October 22.

Extract of a letter from Augaſta, dated October 15.

"The governor hath received information by an expreſs who arrived on Tueſday from Waſhington county, that alarming depredations are committing by our ſavage foes: they have burnt Kemp's fort, and ſeveral houſes, and give full ſcope to their natural barbarity, in exerciſing their uſual cruelties.—Two families have been taken from Greene county, and carried into the Indian nation."

By a gentleman juſt arrived from Hiſpaniola we are informed, that advice had arrived there of eight ſail of Britiſh men of war having captured nine ſail of French merchantmen, and carrying them into Jamaica. The cauſe of the above hoſtilities he could not learn.

October 24. It is reported, that the emperor of Morocco lately ſent a veſſel to Madeira, with information to Mr. Clarke, our charge des affaires at that place, of his intention in the courſe of this winter to diſpatch four veſſels to America, for the purpoſe of trading. This ſtep is taken to prevent any alarm by the appearance of veſſels on our coaſt, which being built in the Turkiſh faſhion, might be ſuppoſed to belong to our enemies the Algerines, inſtead of our ally the emperor of Morocco.

A letter from the governor of North-Carolina to a gentleman in this city, mentions, that from the returns he had received of ship clothing for ſeafaring of the commonalty, the friends of the [illegible] in that quarter [illegible] encouraging hopes of that ſtate's [illegible] the confederation.

EDENTON, November 5.

From the Providence Gazette, of October 3.

Thurſday the brig Hope, captain Benjamin Page, arrived here from Peterſburgh, laſt from Copenhagen, in 50 days. On his paſſage from Peterſburgh, on the 18th of July, he paſſed through the Ruſſian fleet, conſiſting of 26 ſail of the line, and five frigates, which met that of Sweden, conſiſting of 24 ſail of the line, and nine frigates of 40 guns, on the 24th. An action enſued, which laſted ſix hours and an half, when the Ruſſian fleet bore away; the Swedes came to an anchor till next morning, to repair their damages, and then went in queſt of them; the Ruſſians were joined by 14 ſail of the line that had wintered in Denmark, after which the Swediſh fleet went into Carliſkroon.—The Swediſh army that had laid ſiege to Frederickſham, in Ruſſian Finland, carried the place by aſſault, on the 24th of July.

Annapolis, Nov. 19.

On Monday laſt the general aſſembly proceeded to the choice of a governor of this ſtate, when the honourable John Eager Howard, Eſquire, was unanimouſly re-elected.

John Kilty, James Brice, John Davidſon, William Hindman and Randolph Brands Latimer, Eſquires, were, the day following, choſen members of the honourable council.
